

Nominees for the Harry C. Moore Basketball Scholarship – one male and one female will receive a $500 scholarship. These student athletes applied for the scholarship after being nominated by his/her coach. The applications were screened by a committee of 20 people associated with the tournament. Those people selected this year’s recipients who will be announce at the conclusion of the Championship games.

Brianne VanBuskirk - “It is an honor to be considered for this scholarship. By being nominated I feel my efforts have been recognized. An important part of my life is helping others. By participating in each of these activities I demonstrate good character and leadership qualities which are needed to achieve my goals. It is my dream to work and help children of all ages”

Tyler Banks - “I have been honored by being nominated by my basketball coach to compete for the Harry C. Moore Memorial Basketball Scholarship. By being recognized by Mr. Burton I see that people understand that I try to make my character stand out above and beyond other student athletes, that I try to make our school a better place to learn, and that I try to make our team, at Brown City High School, stronger. To my peers I have always been known as a leader and someone you could lean on if you need help. This helps shape who I am today.”

Nichole Parks –“Two important lessons I have learned while growing up on a cabbage farm are; how to work as a team and that even though the work might stink, the harvest is well worth the effort. Hard unglamorous work joins with teamwork as values instilled in me from a young age. I have been taught valuable lessons that I practice throughout the year and will remain with me the rest to my life.”

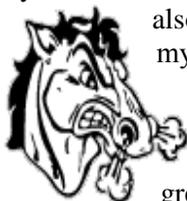

Sean O'Brien - “Among my many accomplishments I have learned hard work, dedication, and a passion for the thing you love will get your far. My parents have taught me the will to love what I do and to give 110% no matter what. My friends and parents have had a huge impact on who I am today and I am thankful that I have grown up in Capac. A good education is important in moving forward in life. I have always placed a value on sports and to do that, a good education.”

Marnie Fettig - “Throughout high school I have been very involved and have had lots of opportunities to help my community. Through the Links program at school I am paired with an autistic peer. This has changed my viewpoint on a lot of different subjects and I have learned that patience and determination while allow me to handle many different situations.”

Craig Frazee - “I am honored to apply for this special scholarship and thank you for your consideration. I am thankful too for the many opportunities I have had to gather leadership skills. Leadership has become one of the main qualities that defines me, as an athlete and individual. Using my leadership skills effectively has been essential in helping me achieve my goals in school and life.”

Justine Vauter – “Being a leader is defined in so many ways, but I define it as someone who is determined to get where they want to be and leadership needs to be found everywhere. A leader must also have patience and respect with others but also have confidence. To achieve my own goals I need these characteristics and work on them daily, I push myself to work hard and this helps me achieve and overcome obstacles.”

Ethan Huffaker - “The opportunity I have had that most shows my leadership is through sports such as football and basketball. The thing about being a leader is not always being the best player but being the greatest example. Encouraging your team to be enthusiastic, even after a loss, is a challenge but everything relates to a life lesson in one way or another. We learn from those experiences and we can teach others what we have learned.”
