

Nominees for the Harry C. Moore Basketball Scholarship – one male and one female will receive a $500 scholarship. These student athletes applied for the scholarship after being nominated by his/her coach. The applications were screened by a committee of 20 people associated with the tournament. Those people selected this year’s recipients who will be announced at the conclusion of the Championship games.

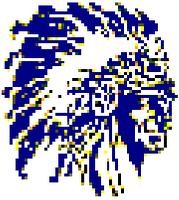

Brianne VanBuskirk - “It is an honor to be considered for this scholarship. By being nominated I feel my efforts have been recognized. An important part of my life is helping others. By participating in each of these activities I demonstrate good character and leadership qualities which are needed to achieve my goals.

It is my dream to work and help children of all ages”

Ryan Jurgens - “One of the activities that means the most to me is helping out my friend’s baseball team. Having been able to have the chance to help really excited me because I can remember when I was a younger player and always looked up to the varsity players.”

Taylor Venzuch –“Throughout my high school years I have been involved. I have participated in sports and in student council. Each of my activities has given me the opportunity to give to others. Giving back means a lot to me and is something I actively participate in whenever given the opportunity.”

Tyler Maday - “Growing up I have always strived to be the best in everything I have done. Although my best has not always been good enough and I have failed at many things, I try to learn from my mistakes and use what I learned from each failure and try not to make the same mistake twice.”

Shannon Brown - “As a leader in sports I perform those tasks by encouraging others around me to do their best for the sake of themselves and for the team. I am a leader on and off the court and I don’t let bad calls or players stop me from showing sportsmanship and a good attitude.””

Cullen Turczyn - “I have held many leadership roles in school, sports, and work. These roles were both formal and informally bestowed upon me because I had the respect of those around me. I achieved this respect by being supportive to others, being responsible and working hard, and enjoying the spirit and fun of the activity. I have always tried to lead by setting an example of good character.”

Carli Gormley – “Being a leader means being committed and being a cooperative teammate, being coachable and continually working hard for your team and yourself. It is important to set a good example for everyone. It also means having a positive attitude and maintaining the positive attitude no matter what the win-loss record indicates. Being a leader means respect for authority, respect for peers and respect for officials at all times.”

Corey Franks - “Leadership is an important role to me. You have to be someone that the rest of the players can look up to and depend on for answers. It’s about setting examples and even when things aren’t going great in a game, making the right decisions and showing sportsmanship. Sportsmanship, it’s about being able to go out on the floor and do the job you are expected to do.”
